

GAME TABLE WITH INTEGRAL LIGHTING SYSTEM

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a game table with a plurality of player stations with an integral lighting system. The game table, for example, a poker table, includes a light window adjacent all of the player stations. An illumination device is fixedly disposed beneath the light window. With such a configuration, lighting is provided from beneath the table, which minimizes shadows during television taping.